This paper presents a very good argument for an ethnomathematics in its own right without being merely a tool for formal school mathematics. However, the audience needs to be made aware of how the content of such a proposal is actually planned and implemented. The presentation should provide this detail.

I would like to see during the presentation more description and analysis on what is actually done in the Urban Boundaries Project

Your proposal has been accepted for a long presentation in the TSG36. That means you will have a total of twenty minutes for your presentation, including questions. Please restrict your powerpoint slides to a maximum of three. Do not forget to register and to submit the final paper by April 10 at the latest. The specific scheduling within sessions will be provided later.
